

BEN FREMIN

ELECTRONIC PRESS KIT

Ben Fremin started playing drums from the young age of 5. Since, his passion and drive for the craft has only grown. Getting his start in Northern Virginia, Ben spent the majority of his time practicing in his basement.

As time progressed, Ben would soon start making live appearances at local clubs and on the band stand with a range of VA cover acts. He started playing with an original alt/indie rock band called Ache Harvest that would end up playing shows on the east coast, making their way towards Cleveland for a performance at the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame for a battle of the bands competition. Ben finished high school early, and started teaching drum lessons at the local School of Rock down the road from his former high school. Ben would continue for the next year teaching privately and with SOR, barista'ing, and playing gigs to make money and gain experience.

As time would inevitably advance, Ben's desire for learning would follow. Ben now attends Berklee College of Music pursuing a degree in Drumset Performance. During his time at Berklee, Ben continues to play with artists ranging in genres of Funk, Fusion, Country, Rock, Latin, Jazz, Reggae, HipHop, and many more.

In the summer of 2024, Ben played on his first major tour that would travel as far South as Austin Texas and North to Montreal Canada. This tour would go on for 27 shows and 26 cities, totalling approximately two full months on the road. Before and after the tour, Ben can be found at Berklee in Boston Massachusetts pursuing his academic, musical, and personal studies, on occasion wandering the neighborhoods and drum shops of Nashville searching for his next gig.

MEDIA

Ben can be found posting drum covers in all styles of music in addition to vlogs of significant musical endeavors. Ben is most active on Instagram where he posts content from drum covers, studio sessions, live shows, and more weekly.
